

Office Pro

Office Pro offers the very latest live analysis tool enabling you to measure and act on the day's events in real time. Providing you with a live feed to your phone system you can easily monitor your staff, call groups and the general performance of your site in list or wallboard views. Using ACD functionality you can monitor calls being handled by your phone system before they have even touched a handset, enabling you to track your customer movements and ultimately helping you to improve your customer experience. With a massive range of reports and endless functionality a demonstration would be the best way to really appreciate what the system can offer your business.
